- The data were analyzed through three stages: data reduction, data display, and conclusion drawing/verification.

IV. Significance

I think that JEES's journal is more complete and details than Pedagogia's journal. Because Jeess's journal focus to explain the ability of English especially writing skills on Thai students, but on Pedagogia's journal it is just explain the ability of English in general not too specific.

Concluding sentence:

all in all, on JEES's journal, that Thai student feel the ability of writing is the most difficult. While on Pedagogia journal Indonesians student feel the ability of speaking is the most difficult.
